The information on this blog is of a general nature and should not be construed as professional advice. It is sponsored by Elko & Associates Ltd (hereinafter “the Firm”, “we”, “us”, or “our”) solely for the convenience of our clients and the public. The postings on this site are those of the authors and do not necessarily represent Elko & Associates Ltd’s positions, strategies, or opinions.

Further, information on this site is intended to afford general guidelines on matters of interest. The application and impact of the laws can vary widely, however, from case to case, based upon the specific or unique facts involved. Accordingly, the information in this site is not intended to serve as legal, accounting, financial or tax advice. Users are encouraged to consult with professional advisors at Elko & Associates Ltd for advice concerning specific matters before making any decision.

Communications sent to us via this blog or via the Internet may not be secure and may be intercepted by other parties. Imparting this information does not constitute a client-accountant relationship nor does the transmission or receipt of any e-mail sent through this blog constitute or create, in any way, a client-accountant relationship or a job application.

Further, unless specifically engaged to perform a service (in writing, in a formal, signed engagement letter between us and our client) it should not be construed that the service will be performed by us. We offer multiple levels of services to our clients. Client engagements will vary with regard to depth and level of each and every service as agreed prior to performing the services. A client should always refer to the signed engagement letter to understand the specific services that we agree to provide and the scope of those services. Certain links on this blog lead to servers maintained by individuals or organizations over which we have no control. We make no representations or warranties regarding the accuracy or any other aspect of the information located on such servers.

Unless otherwise noted, all information on this blog is the property of this Firm. Unauthorized use will be subject to legal action.

IRS Circular 230 Notice

To the extent this blog or files available within it concern tax matters, the information is not intended to be used and cannot be used by a taxpayer for the purpose of avoiding penalties that may be imposed by law or in promoting, marketing, or recommending to another party any transaction or matter addressed.

Indemnification

As a visitor to this blog, you agree to indemnify the us, and our partners, officers, directors, employees, agents, distributors, and affiliates from and against any and all third party claims, demands, liabilities, costs, or expenses, including reasonable attorney’s fees that arise from your use or misuse of this site.

Comment Policy

We appreciate the users of and contributors to this blog, and we thank them for adding to its content. We realize that everyone may not agree with a particular post, and we welcome free and spirited debate. We are not responsible for the comments or opinions expressed by any contributor to this blog.

We encourage comments including those that challenge us or offer constructive criticism, and we reserve the right to edit or remove any post, for any reason. We will delete any comments with content that:

- is abusive
- is off-topic
- contains ad-hominem attacks
- promotes hate of any kind
- uses foul language (we are a G-rated blog)
- is blatantly spam

Comments, once contributed, may be used by us at any time in any way, with attribution to the contributor.
